Robert M. Brookes, Former Prosecutor, Dies Suddenly

DEATH OF EAST
LIVERPOOL MAN
SHOCKS COUNTY

Was Active In Legal Profession and Had Known No Illness

SERVED OVERSEAS
DURING WORLD WAR

Was Prosecuting attorney 1924-1928; Active In Civic Affairs

EAST LIVERPOOL, June 1.—Robert Martin Brookes, 45, former prosecuting attorney of Columbiana county, died suddenly at 11:30 Sunday at his home, 211 Pennsylvania ave., following a heart attack.

His body was found on the floor of his bedroom by a maid in the Brookes home.

Shock to County

Announcement of his death came as a shock to his many friends of the legal profession and others throughout the county. He apparently had known no illness and during last week was actively representing the defense in a first degree murder trial in common pleas court in Lisbon.

Att'y. Brookes was born here April 11, 1891, the son of Jason R. and Mabel Brookes. He attended East Liverpool elementary schools and graduated from Culver military academy in 1910. He graduated from Bethany college in 1914. He then studied law with the firm of Brookes & Thompson.

He completed a law course at Ada college in 1916 and was admitted to the Ohio state bar the same year.

He served overseas in 1917 as a 1st lieutenant in the Rainbow division. He was wounded July 26, 1918, in the battle of Champagne. He was in the hospital six months before the Armistice was signed.

Returning to East Liverpool, he joined the law firm of Brookes & Thompson.

Becomes Prosecutor

Entering politics, he served as assistant Columbiana county prosecuting attorney, 1920 to 1924, and then served as prosecutor for four years, 1924 to 1928, succeeding Jess Bailey. He was a member of the police pension fund board here.

He also was affiliated with various lodges and churches. He was a member of the Southern Columbiana County Bar association and also the State Bar association.

Besides his parents, he is survived by one sister, Mrs. George A. Patterson; and one brother, Jason H. Brookes, Jr., of East Liverpool.

The funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the home, with burial in Riverview cemetery.

Grange To Discuss
Federal Farm Help

Perry grangers will discuss the topic, "Do farmers appreciate the federal aid that is given them?" at a meeting Wednesday night. The discussion will be led by Orvil Bates and Mrs. Ed Grubbs.

Other features of the program will be: Roll call, some flower or vegetable you planted this year; special number, Wilda Bricker and Alice McDonald; stunt; guitar solo, Robert Weid.

Hearing In Adams
Case Is Delayed

Progress in the Dudley Adams first degree murder trial, which got under way last week in common pleas court, Lisbon, has been suspended, on order of Judge W. F. Lones, until 9 a. m. Thursday as a result of the death Sunday of Att'y R. M. Brookes of East Liverpool, co-counsel for the defense.

The defense was nearing the end of its testimony when the court recessed Friday afternoon for the holiday and weekend.

Judge Lones said today: "It is my sad duty to announce the sudden death of Att'y Robert M. Brookes, counsel for Dudley Adams, Sunday morning. By reason of that death, it is necessary to pass this case until Thursday at 9 a. m."

Judge Lones indicated that Jason H. Brooks, Jr., brother of R. M. Brookes, who has been "sitting in" on the case, will be appointed to replace his brother.

$1,500 OFFERED
IN TWO MURDERS

Money Posted By County In Cannon, Dickey Slayings

Rewards totaling $1,500 stand today for the capture of the slayers in two Columbiana county murder cases.

Commissioners today posted a reward of $500 for the apprehension of the killers of Francis Cannon, 37, East Liverpool pottery salesman, who was beaten to death early in the morning of May 12 while escorting two girls to their homes.

Four men climbed out of an automobile on East Fourth st., East Liverpool, and attacked Cannon.

A reward of $500 is offered for the arrest of Clinton Daniels, of East Liverpool, wanted in the slaying of Clarence Dickey, East Liverpool milk truck worker, last Christmas morning.

A similar amount will be paid over to the individual who returns Burl Rogers of East Liverpool, also sought in the Dickey killing, to the county jail. Rogers escaped from the jail May 3.

Minimum Wage Law
In New York Ruled
Out by High Court

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 1.—The supreme court declared unconstitutional today, a 1933 New York law establishing minimum wages for women and children, by a five to four vote.

The ground given was that the state law contravened the constitutional guarantee of liberty. It was held that "the right to make contracts" must not be violated.

Banquet Is Planned
By Goshen Alumni

The annual banquet for the Alumni association of Goshen Township High school will be held Tuesday evening at the school. Following the dinner a program of entertainment will be given.

The program follows: Music, instrumental and vocal, Misses Hazel Wolford and Marjorie Courtney; accordion music, Miss Bernice Barnett; reading, "The Belle of Carrot Corners," Miss Bernice Rlenhart; music, Miss Wolford and Miss Courtney; reading, "Humoresque," Miss Lucille Greenstein.

Olvin Shoar will be toastmaster. Robert Crawford will give the welcome and Lee Mercer, the response. Prof. C. G. Long of the High school faculty will have an address.

Dr. Melvin W. Hyde
Dean at Mt. Union

Dr. Melvin W. Hyde, 31, acting president and dean of Dakota Wesleyan university at Mitchell, S. D., has accepted the deanship of Mount Union college, Alliance. He will also serve as the head of the department of education, thus filling the two vacancies left by the death of Dr. J. B. Bowman.

Dr. Hyde, who was the unanimous choice of the Board of Trustees, had previously been offered the post of president at Dakota Wesleyan university. He will bring his wife, the former Miss Claude Bray, and his two children, James 4, and Joanne, 2, to Alliance the first of September. Dr. W. M. Morgan of the chemistry department, who has been acting dean in Dr. Bowman's absence, will continue for the summer session.

Leonard Butz, 93 Tomorrow,
Has Voted for 18 Presidents;
Hopes to Make It 19 In Fall

There are not many citizens in the United States who can boast of voting for 18 presidents but Salem is the home of one of the few who can do just that thing.

He is Leonard Butz, who will celebrate his 93rd birthday tomorrow at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harold Babb, 148 Vine st., where he resides.

Butz, who is eagerly awaiting the opportunity to cast his 19th presidential ballot this fall, recalls he marked his first ballot for Abraham Lincoln. That was back in 1864, just after he had turned 21 and received the right to vote.

A Republican, he walked to the polls in the rain to cast his ballot at the municipal election last fall and proudly proclaimed when he returned home, "I voted the straight Republican ticket."

Butz has always been active in civic affairs. He has been a member of the L. O. O. F. for 47 years and is a past noble grand. For the past 33 years he has been affiliated with the local carpenters union.

He is the oldest living member of the Christian church, which he has attended for 65 years, and is believed to be the oldest living member of the Sons of Union Veterans. He sang in the Christian church choir for 55 years and still attends services whenever weather permits.

His father, Samuel Butz, died in the siege of Vicksburg during the Civil war and is buried in the south. His wife, Isabel Taylor Butz, died a number of years ago at Hanoverton.

His daughter will hold an open house celebration for him at her home tomorrow. Friends and relatives will be received from 2 until 5 p. m. and 7 until 9 p. m.

FIVE DRIVERS
ARRESTED HERE

Warren Man to Face Mayor on Charge of Driving While Intoxicated

Five motorists were arrested over the weekend by local police and state highway patrolmen, one on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Mayor George Harroff fined Robert McGraw of East Palestine $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving filed by Patrolmen George Reash and James Hassey Saturday night.

Jack Safford of Warren, charged with driving while intoxicated, was arrested on East State st., early Sunday morning. He was to be arraigned in the mayors court late today.

Wayne Morron of 389 North Ellsworth ave., charged by State Highway Patrolman R. N. Perry with reckless driving, was fined $5 and costs by Justice of the Peace M. K. Zimmerman at Lisbon Saturday.

A. W. Ritzman of Alliance, arrested yesterday by State Patrolman Carol Ruben on a charge of miss-use of dealers plates, had his case postponed until tonight before Mayor Harroff.

William Stunkaid of Pittsburgh, arrested by Ruben on a charge of driving without a tail light assembly, was fined $4 and costs by Justice of the Peace William Rich, Jr., yesterday.

Torontoans Held
For Theft of Auto

Two Toronto youths, Henry Gray, 19, and Miller Carter, 18, were held at the county jail in Lisbon today, charged with auto theft, following their arrest Sunday by A. E. Mercer, Salem state highway patrolman.

Mercer nabbed the pair near Lisbon at 4 p. m. yesterday when he became suspicious of their actions. The car was found to be owned by Alfred Firm of Toronto.

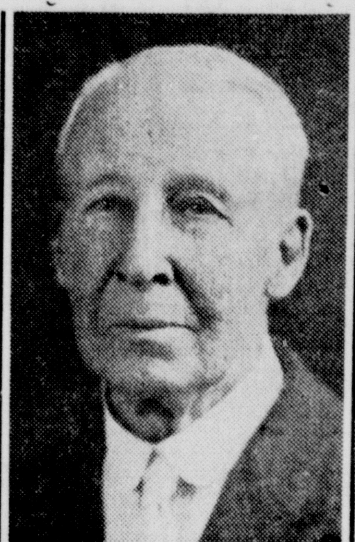

The pair was bound over to the grand jury when a preliminary before Mayor G. C. Rauch at Lisbon was waived. Gray pleaded guilty, however, when he waived hearing. The youths reside at 711 and 713 Railroad st., Toronto.

Suspect Poison

TROY, June 1.—County authorities, investigating today the death of Edgar Conner, 42, found unconscious yesterday at his desk in the Hobart Manufacturing Co., of which he was assistant production manager, said they believed he died from poison. Sheriff Kenneth Miller said he found an empty bottle of poison in the office washroom.

Steady Diet

SCOTT CITY, Kas., June 1.—As a result of selling his 160-acre farm Frank Roark has 2,400 sacks of potatoes coming to him each year for the next 10 years. He agreed on 24,000 sacks of potatoes as the price of the farm, 10 per cent of the price to be paid each year.

Junior-Senior
Prom Success;
Plan Farewell

The Junior-Senior prom Friday night, a colorful affair, was attended by 275 persons. A banquet served at 6:30 p. m. in the Masonic temple was followed by dancing in the high school gymnasium from 9 to 12.

Many parents and teachers looked on as the students danced in the gymnasium to the music of Harry Hylan's Ambassadors of Youngstown. Crepe streamers in spring colors provided pretty decorations for the gym, which were left up for the Senior Farewell party tomorrow evening.

Kenneth Shears, president of the Junior class, was toastmaster for the banquet program. Supt. E. S. Kerr gave the invocation, followed by a welcome address by Jane Metzger.

Rev. Ian Robertson, rector of the Church of Our Saviour, gave an address, James Campbell, Sen. class president, responded to Miss Metzger's talk.

Music was provided by Robert Battin, saxophone solo; a girls quartet, and a duet, Jean Kingsley and Wade McGhee, accompanied by Meta McCarve. Ladies of the O. E. S. served the dinner. Miss Mildred Horwell was faculty sponsor for the affair.

The Seniors will rally Tuesday night in the High school gymnasium for their annual Farewell dance for which Ken Morrison's orchestra will play. James Campbell, class president, is in charge of arrangements, aided by Miss Ethel Beardmore, class advisor. Dancing will be from 8:30 to 12.

Lewis Is Speaker
At Bethesda Rites

LISSON, June 1.—Earl R. Lewis, former state senator and Republican nominee for representative to Congress from the 18th district, was the principal speaker at the services at the Bethesda church near here yesterday.

John Welsh post No. 275, American Legion, of Lisbon, was in charge of the services at the Bethesda and also at Hanoverton, where Att'y S. W. Crawford of East Liverpool gave the address.

Memorial day services here were headed by the address of Frank Springer, assistant Columbiana county prosecutor.

Mullins To Start Production
Of New Trailers About July 1

Expect To Produce At Least 10,000 of New Utility Units During Remainder of Year

Production of an all-steel, low cost utility trailer for passenger cars, by the Mullins Manufacturing Corp., is expected to start about July 1, it was announced today by C. C. Gibson, president. The corporation expects to produce at least 10,000 units during the remainder of 1936.

The trailer, which is of modern, streamlined design and will carry a maximum load of approximately 1200 pounds, will be sold through regularly established automobile dealers, Mr. Gibson said. The trailer is mounted on two standard automobile wheels and tires, and has the standard tread of 5 1/2 inches.

A list price of $119.50, f. o. b. Salem, was announced.

All-steel, with hinged cover and tail gate, the lines of the new trailer conform to those of the modern automobile. It has many unusual features of design and construction which are expected to appeal to tourists, sportsmen, merchants, vendors, salesmen and farmers.

With more than 20,000,000 registered motor cars in the United States, Mullins officials foresee a tremendous market for a utility trailer of this type. Mr. Gibson believes that the manufacture of trailers will prove to be the next big industry, ranking in size and importance with automatic refrigeration and radio.

Purchase of the trailer can be financed in the same manner and on much the same terms as a new motor car. Sales activities of the company's new trailer division will be directed by Paul F. Brophy, general sales manager.

For the present, the trailer will be finished in one color, probably gunmetal gray, or it can be shipped to dealers in the prime coating so that the unit may be finished to match the color of any motor car.

Zioncheck Is Arrested, Charged With Being "Of Unsound Mind"

ATTEMPTS TWICE
TO SEE PRESIDENT

Drives Down Busy Sidewalk at Speed of 60 Miles An Hour

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Representative Marion A. Zioncheck of Washington state was charged today in an order committing him to Gallinger hospital with being "of unsound mind."

The charge was sworn to by Ed Stump, sanitary officer of the District of Columbia.

Tries to See President

The commitment was presented when police took Zioncheck to Gallinger hospital after arresting him at the Naval hospital. During the morning the representative had called at the White House executive offices, twice, asking to see the President.

On the back of the commitment order was the following notation by Inspector Bernard Thompson, chief of Detectives:

"This man has been driving his automobile in a reckless manner over the streets of the District of Columbia and annoying prominent officials and citizens and is believed to be of unsound mind." His arrest climaxed a day of excitement during which Zioncheck drove down a busy sidewalk and visited police court, at 60 miles an hour.

Naval hospital officials said Zioncheck had reported voluntarily to the institution a few minutes before police arrived to arrest him.

Throngs Attend Memorial Rites; Percy Tetlow Guest Speaker

Martial music, tramping feet, flags waving, eulogies, a pause, then taps and Salem again paid tribute to its soldier dead.

With civic and patriotic organizations, school students, and musical units cooperating in both morning and afternoon parades and services at Grandview and Hope cemeteries, another successful Memorial day observance was written into the city's history Saturday.

Pastors Speak

Opening the observance in the morning, the Veterans of Foreign Wars conducted a parade and program at Grandview cemetery with Rev. Ian Robertson, rector of the Church of Our Saviour, and Rev. George D. Keister, pastor of Holy Trinity English Lutheran church, as the principal speakers.

The afternoon program, in charge of the Sons of Veterans, was headed by a lengthy parade which moved through the downtown section and thence to Hope cemetery where concluding ceremonies were held.

Included in the afternoon procession were the Quaker City and Sa-

Meyer Wins Third Racing Title

Louis Meyer of Huntington Park, Calif., is shown waving from his auto after winning the 500-mile Indianapolis Speedway classic Memorial day. Meyer is the first driver in history to win the 500-mile auto race three times. He averaged 109.069 miles an hour for the 500 miles.

Mrs. Ellen Elder,
95, Succumbs Here

Mrs. Ellen M. Elder, 95, a resident of near Salem practically all her life, died at 10:30 a. m. today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lewis S. Campbell on the Ellsworth road. She had been ill for 12 days, following a stroke.

She was a member of the Bunker Hill Methodist church. Her husband, William C. Elder, died 26 years ago.

Besides her daughter, she is survived by two sons, Espey and Clyde of near Salem; one sister, Mrs. Mattie Carter of Boulder, Colo., three grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The funeral service will be held at 2:30 a. m. Thursday at the Bunker Hill M. E. church in charge of Rev. A. R. Anderson. Burial will be in the church cemetery. The body was removed to the Arbaugh parlors.

'Brown Jacket' Man
Accused In Thefts

Police had the description today of a man, who wore a "brown jacket," believed guilty of recent automobile thefts in the city. Two machines and some auto parts were stolen in the city over the weekend. Several auto thefts were reported last week.

Ralph Greathouse of R. D. 1, Washingtonville, who saw a man drive away with his car, parked on Vine st., Saturday night, gave Patrolmen George Reash and James Hassey a description of the man. The car was found on East Third st., several hours later.

The theft of four tires and other accessories from several machines parked in the Althouse Motor Co., lot on South Lundy, was reported by Lynn Feaster, salesman.

E. M. Apple of 177 South Lincoln ave., reported to police Sunday night his car had been stolen. Patrolman Reash later found the machine a block away.

Salem Girl Awaits
Wesleyan Degree

Miss Mary Lou Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Miller of South Lincoln ave., will be one of the 255 candidates for the B. A. degree at Ohio Wesleyan university's 92nd annual commencement exercises at Delaware next Monday.

Dr. Francis J. McConnell, New York, bishop of the New York City area of the Methodist church, will be the speaker. Dr. McConnell was president of the Federal Council of Churches from 1928 to 1932 and is an Ohio Wesleyan graduate.

Others who will receive their degrees include: Martha Bloor of East Liverpool and Alice Skinner of East Palestine.

MRS. JOHN GIBB,
DAMASCUS, DIES

Wife of Stark Electric's Agent Here Succumbs At Home

Mrs. Alice Quinn Gibb, wife of John G. Gibb, agent at the Stark Electric street car station here, died at 3 a. m. today at her home in Damascus after an illness of eight months.

Her twin sister, Mrs. Thomas D. Primm, died Sept. 29, 1935.

Mrs. Gibb was active in church and community affairs for a number of years. Before her marriage to Mr. Gibb in 1914, she had been engaged in newspaper work, having been with the Wellsville Union, the Salem News and for a number of years manager of the Tri-State News Bureau in Pittsburgh.

She was a daughter of the late Joseph R. Quinn and Allevia Ball Quinn of Damascus.

In addition to her husband, she leaves a sister, Mrs. Ben F. Mullett of Wayne O., and her brother-in-law, Thomas D. Primm of Damascus.

The funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Damascus Methodist church in charge of the pastor, Rev. A. R. Anderson. Burial will be in the Damascus cemetery.

Friends may call at the home from 7 to 9 p. m. Tuesday.

Firemen and CCC
Battle Farm Fire

Salem firemen joined CCC youths from the Lisbon camp in fighting a haystack fire at the farm of J. Hofman, southeast of New Garden at 10:58 a. m. Sunday. Neighbors also joined in the fire brigade.

The haystack, which was against a large barn, had caught fire and was endangering the building. The local firemen, CCC recruits and farmers succeeded in pulling the stack away from the barn.

The CCC boys rushed to the scene and used milk cans to carry water from Guilford lake to combat the blaze.

One truck was dispatched from Salem just after the firemen had extinguished a grass fire on South Lincoln ave., near the Pennsylvania railroad tracks.

Chief Vincent Malloy today reported only nine fires in the city last month.

Probe Two Deaths

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., June 1.—J. D. Booth, 61, and his wife, Bertha, 57, were dead today from what Police Sergeant M. V. Carpenter said was a slaying and suicide. Mrs. Booth's body was found in the backyard of their home, and Booth, who had been in ill health, died at short time after he was found on the porch, a bullet wound in his head and a pistol beside him.

They formerly operated swimming pools at Kenova and Portsmouth, O.

LIST 181
IN CLASS
OF 1936

School Authorities
Announce Formal
O.K. of Roster

One hundred and eighty-one Salem High school Seniors, who will receive diplomas at graduation exercises Thursday night in the High school auditorium, last night heard Rev. John Bauman, pastor of the Emmanuel Lutheran church, deliver the baccalaureate sermon. He spoke on "Key Words of Character."

The class is the largest ever to graduate from Salem High school, school officials said today.

Urges Worthy Aims

Rev. Bauman called upon members of the class, convened in the High school auditorium for the program, to launch their lives into the world with resolutions directed toward worthy aims. "Strive to make realities out of the ideals you harbor," the speaker urged. "I doubt not that most of you are actuated by noble impulses. On a day like this you are fired with a spirit of optimism; the horizon of your future seems tinted with rosy hues."

The speaker drew a comparison between the launching of a huge new liner and the launching of the graduates' lives upon the sea of active life. "The days of building, of making ready, now lie behind you," Rev. Bauman said. "Before you lie the uncharted waters of your future, a future you would like to scan but cannot. I sincerely wish you God's blessing for the task of striving to make realities out of your ideals."

A feature of the baccalaureate service Sunday night was two selections by the High school mixed chorus sung in special arrangements of Miss Janis Satterthwaite, school music supervisor. They were "Come, Spirit of the Living God" (Speaks) and "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains" (Harker).

Rev. C. F. Evans gave the invocation while Rev. R. D. Walter gave the Scripture reading. Benediction was pronounced by Rev. H. J. Thompson. Two hymns, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" and "Now the Day is Over," were sung.

The students marched into and left the auditorium to the accompaniment of music played by the High school orchestra.

Don't Abandon Ideals

"I would only add that I hope you will not abandon your ideals when sometimes they seem slow of fruition," Rev. Bauman continued. "Having high aims, you cannot attain them with little or desultory efforts. Mountain tops are reached only by the stout of limb and stout of heart. So, in your life climb hard and climb long, and above all, climb fair. In trying to go higher, do not push others down."

ALMOST ESTRANGED

Sen. Borah's final speech as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, in which he was to strike his last and hardest blows at the opposition, turned out to be disappointing. It was made painfully plain that the senator had no hard blows to deliver; his strength had been spent. He had nothing in reserve.

It was made plain, also, that Sen. Borah cannot be of more than limited usefulness to the Republican party. That is to say that he has maneuvered himself into a position from which he scarcely will be able to give his blessing to either the candidate or the platform. Although it is the party which is supposed to feel unhappy about this, it does not seem likely the senator can be very happy either.

He cannot go over to the Democratic party without making himself ridiculous, and there is no good reason for believing he would switch parties under favorable circumstances. He cannot stay in the Republican party unless either he or it makes considerable concessions. It is a question as to what, exactly, Sen. Borah can do. He has been so busy finding fault with everybody else that he has neglected to make a political nest for himself. It is as much a commentary on his own nature as on the nature of political parties that he is almost estranged from all existing organizations. The senator has surveyed the political parade and found that everybody is out of step but him.

ZIONCHECK ZIPPERS

Speeding, bell ringing, glass throwing, pool wading, gin mixing (Zioncheck Zippers) Rep. Marion A. Zioncheck has skyrocketed himself to national notoriety in the last few months. He may have done it all consciously, choosing the vaudeville method of arousing public awareness. But even if he has knowingly chosen his course, he may have guessed wrong.

Reports from Seattle, which is the rampaging representative's real home, indicate that some voters are not grateful for the publicity given to their distant spot on the map. Voicing what appears to be widely felt sentiment in the first district of the state of Washington, a local committeeman said: "Instead of spending his time mixing Zioncheck Zippers . . . he ought to pay some attention to what his district might be needing." Already five Seattle Democrats have filed to contest his seat in the September primary.

Since opposition may be widely split, the ebullient representative still has a fair chance of bouncing back to Washington, D. C. But warning signs are being erected. If he heeds them, he may realize that voters can go just as sour as did some of his first efforts to make those Zioncheck Zippers. The country would like to be sure that a clown can't be re-elected to congress. Seattle's first district has been challenged to prove the point.

JUNE AND MOON

Marriage isn't all beer and skittles, billing and cooing and living in heaven in a cottage with chintz curtains. So says Common Pleas Judge George W. Kerr after five months on the domestic relations court bench in Cleveland. In that time he has handled 2,500 divorce and allied cases and concluded that marriage presents problems of partnership, self control, of consideration, of bringing up children competently.

Yet in this merry month just beginning, June and moon, love and dove, you and true are some of the ecstatic rhymes that will be singing through young hearts from coast to coast. Unless human nature has changed drastically since the days when there were two chickens in every garage, this month thousands of young women are going to be dashing hither and yon putting the finishing touches to their June bride trousseau. With starlight in their eyes, they wait palpatingly for the day when they can trade in their old name for a new one that will change their whole life.

Cynics and realistic judges have a right to point to the rocks ahead. In fact, if all the couples to be linked this month weighed the pros and cons and tried to chart their course before starting, many more of them would enjoy smoother sailing on the trip ahead. But, happily, the fear of disaster won't deter many of them. If the possibility of failure always had deterred Americans this country still might be just another colony.

A toast to the June brides and grooms!

THE STARS SAY

For Sunday, May 31

Sunday's horoscope holds auguries of very lively and active conditions, with much of this inspired by important news, or in connection with writings or publication. This may relate to the launching of new projects of importance, stirring to high initiative and enterprise.

Those whose birthday it is stand at the threshold of a very active and important year, with much stirring in launching new projects or putting down new contracts, especially in connection with rings, close corporations, secret societies or diplomatic circles. Undercurrent understandings and private correspondence may be very effective. Speculative enterprises flourish and all constructive measures are under fine stimuli for aggressive and profitable manipulation.

A child born on this day may be energetic, practical, constructive and talented in many lines. These may secure for it prominence, good position and personal prestige.

Notable nativity: Walt Whitman, poet.
For Monday, June 1

Monday's astrological forecast is not a very propitious one, since it holds several afflicted planetary positions. There may be danger and regret caused by impetuous, reckless and violent conduct, with indulgence in wrathful speech or writings. This might stir up legal entanglements.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year calling for much discreet behavior and well-controlled action in order to avoid pitfalls from rash, tempestuous and intemperate words, acts and writings. Legal complications, quarrels and even physical dangers might arise from reckless indulgences. Be careful in employment not to provoke vexations and be alert against accidents.

A child born on this day may be energetic and talented, but self-indulgent, tumultuous and difficult to get along with unless given early training and discipline.

Notable nativity: John Drinkwater, dramatist.

O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, June 1.—Not many wives of actors have so perpetuated the professional dignity of their husbands as has Mrs. Richard Mansfield. While she supported him in many plays, she has never been "theatrical" in the sense the term so often applies.

English born, highly cultured and of imperial carriage, she turns heads wherever she appears. Now and then as Beatrice Cameron, her stage name, she gives public readings from scenes of the better known Mansfield plays in which she appeared opposite.

Such readings bring out what is perhaps the most aristocratic audiences of which New York may boast. The cream of the regulars who attended the Bagby morning musicales and haunt the big galleries and museums when some new treasure is displayed.

Mrs. Mansfield's voice can best be described as thrilling, as was her husband's. She resides in a community settlement and much of her leisure is devoted to charities. The great Mansfield, so often blustery with indifference to anything save his art, was a model of tenderness toward his wife.

Police Commissioner Valentine is the first department head in years to have almost smooth sailing since he took office. And he isn't talky. Most commissioners find the job a terrific headache from criticism in a few short weeks. His handling of the almost clueless Nancy Titterton murder in so short a time with a 13-inch piece of twine as the only clue surpassed any detection Scotland Yard has accomplished in a decade. Incidentally, two mystery books are now on the press with this case as a theme.

Irvin Cobb's extraordinary success in two fields of endeavor, literature and the movies, recalls the first of the public dinners to be given celebrities that was tendered him. It was held in the ballroom of the old Waldorf in 1912 and from a standpoint of notable attendance has never been surpassed. DeWolf Hopper was there to recite "Casey at the Bat." Hal Corbin, the supposedly original Judge Priest, also. Renold Wolf was one of the speakers and in such form that once he had to pause six minutes for laughter to subside. Cobb, of course, was the last speaker and showed an acute flair for drama. Instead of the rapidly stylized and windy custom, he delivered thanks in less than 50 words, and told one very short but hilarious negro story, and sat down.

At the Cobb dinner, guests were presented with a statuette sculpted from a semi-caricature of the author by James Montgomery Flagg. Will Hogg kept one in his Houston office and on a visit Cobb made to him one time sent his colored porter to handle the luggage. As Cobb stepped from the train, the porter said: "I'll take your baggage, Mr. Cobb." Cobb, not so well known then, was curious to know how he was recognized. "I knowed you by your imitation," it was explained.

My guest at the Cobb party was the late W. G. Sibley, editor of my home town paper. And a night of nights for him, as well as for me. I was a grass green newcomer to the big town, and knew the notable assemblages only by reputation. But Herb Roth took Col. Sibley in tow and presented him to such first page names as Diamond Jim Brady, Frank I. Cobb, Rube Goldberg, Julian Street, Charles G. Norris, Oliver Herford, Clare Briggs, Finley Peter Dunne, William Johnston, Rex Beach, Coleman Dupont, and Cobb himself.

FIRST AID

"SCATTERED ALONG the highways of the nation each year are more than a million persons injured by automobile accidents, and in the homes of the nation there are more than four million additional persons injured. Many of these are suffering from fractures of the long bones. The first aid treatment of this vast number of injured persons, particularly those who have fractured bones will largely determine in many cases the amount of pain, the length of their stay in the hospital and to some extent whether or not they are permanently disabled."

This is quoted from a recent editorial appearing in the Journal of the American Medical Association. It points out that the emergency treatment of fractures of the long bones of the body has become a problem of major importance.

You will be astonished to learn that more than 300,000 fractures of the extremities occur every year in the United States alone. This is more than the number of injured persons in the American forces during the World war.

Common Occurrence
Accidents may occur at any time and, since the breaking of a bone is a common occurrence, it is best for everyone to be familiar with the emergency treatment. It is not always possible to immediately obtain expert medical attention. This is too bad because often the first treatment given determines whether the injury will result in some permanent defect.

The first thought should be to make the injured person as comfortable as possible. But inexperienced lifting or moving or an injured person with a broken leg or arm, may prove disastrous. Bear in mind that moving a person with a broken bone may cause added injury. The broken bones may be forced through the skin. This results in what is called a "compound" fracture, with the danger of serious infection and menace to life.

A person with broken bones should never be moved until the splint is applied to the damaged part. The splint need not be surgically perfect. It will accomplish its purpose if the injured limb is made secure, protected from pressure and sudden movements. A splint can be made from wreckage, a small limb of a tree, a piece of fish pole, a cane, or a folded and tightly rolled newspaper.

I am glad to say that a new movement has been started for proper instruction in the first aid treatment of fractures. This will be carried on under the supervision of certain organizations, such as the American Red Cross, the Girl and Boy Scouts, nurses' organizations and large industrial concerns.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send addressed stamped envelope with their questions. Address all letters to Dr. Copeland in care of this newspaper at its main office in this city.

"THERE'S MURDER IN THE AIR"

by ROY CHANSLOR

CHAPTER XXXIV

"Guess I'll wind things up now. Anything else I can do for you, old man?" Kilrane asked.

"Yes," Tyler said. "One more favor. Strictly under the hat, I'd like to talk to Nicky Gabriel."

Kilrane looked surprised. "Guess that can be arranged," he said. "I'll have the boys bring him here. You know those fellows, they never talk. If you think he's going to tell you who his brother-in-law is, you're going to be disappointed."

"Oh," said Tyler. "But you see I know who acted as Gaudio's accomplice."

Nat and Kilrane stared at him in incredulous amazement. "You—know?" Nat gasped. Kilrane was speechless. Tyler nodded, a grim smile playing briefly across his face.

"But I haven't the foggiest idea of the motive—nor a lick of proof," he said regretfully.

"But—God, man, if you know—" Tyler began.

Tyler shook his head. "I've got to have the proof before I can tell you," he said.

"But—at least you can tell us if it is your suspicion," Nat cried. Again Tyler shook his head. "You believe me, son," he said.

Fifty minutes later a group led by Commissioner Kilrane and Tyler emerged from the foyer of the Palm Gardens. A great shout went up from the tremendous crowd which lined the emergency police held firm by every available reserve, mounted men and reserve policemen.

Reporters and photographers, in their hats, swarmed toward them. Directly behind Kilrane and Tyler, between two husky detectives, stood Nicky Gabriel, his face pale and defiant. He looked neither to right nor left. Nor did he try to cover his face when the flashlight bulbs blazed. Other detectives cleared a path and he was hustled to the waiting police car.

The flashlight bulbs blazed again on Paul Gordon, and upon Carina, the heroine of the occasion, who shrank back against him, trying to shield her eyes from the sudden glare. Then it was the turn of Rene and David to pose.

Reporters began to bombard them with questions, but at a brisk command from Kilrane half a dozen detectives stepped in and quickly disposed of them. Then the Gordons, with Tyler and Nat, were escorted to a second car.

Gordon and his family got into the rear, and Tyler climbed in beside the police chauffeur. Kilrane stood still, standing on the steps of the Palm Gardens, and he raised a hand. The motorcycle escort, screaming, started, the crowd backed and the two cars passed.

Nat stole a glance at Tyler, sitting beside him. The older man was staring ahead, into the night. The muscles in his lean jaws worked. He gave no other sign. Nat's head and his heart were filled with dread.

In the darkened room in the cottage Daniel Tyler held his daughter closely in his arms. With his head he caressed the lids of her restless eyes. The slight shiver which had been running through the muscles of her shoulders and arms ceased.

"It's all right, Father," she whispered. "You can depend on me." "It's the only way, Ruth," he said sadly. "You won't be harmed. If I have to, I'll shoot—and shoot to kill."

The girl shivered again. "Don't, Father, unless you have to," she said. "There's been so much of death."

He held her until the trembling stopped. Then he kissed her lightly on the forehead. He led her to the bed. She lay down, and he held her violin beside her. Then he went quickly to the windows, closed them, returned and looked at the girl.

"Remember," he said softly. "If I play, do it very, very quietly. No one must hear."

"I understand," said the blind girl. "I'll play."

Stiffly Tyler crossed the lawn. He entered the living-room, found them waiting for him, as he had requested, Gordon, on the sofa, between his wife and daughter, in a big chair, with Nat seated on the arm. David, John, Nelson and Harrigan, all standing.

Tyler stood in the center of the room. He smiled sympathetically. "This will be no inquisition," he said pleasantly. "All that is done now, for good. You've all had a terrible time. You've come through beautifully. It's been a pleasure to know so many people of courage and integrity. Now the nightmare which you have lived for weeks ended. You can all go back to your old way of life, secure and happy."

His eyes went to Nelson and Harrigan. "You and your men have done well," he said. "But there's no longer any reason why this should be an armed camp. I'm afraid your jobs are finished."

Nelson grinned. "Know just how you feel, Mr. Tyler," he said. "Guess we could do a little relaxation ourselves. We'll be taking my Boy Scouts back to town. And it might as well be tonight, if that's all right with you, Gordon."

Gordon looked surprised, while Harrigan, starting forward impulsively, protested: "But you can't do that! Gaudio's accomplice—"

Tyler cut in: "Is no longer a threat, Johnson. We've got him where we want him."

"But I don't understand," John said.

"I just had word from Kilrane that they picked up Collins in New York," said Tyler. "Of course he knows everything, but he's our man, all right. And there's enough evidence against him to send him away for a long, long time. Maybe even enough to put him in the chair alongside Nicky Gabriel. No, Johnson, this family has no further need of guns and guards."

Tyler uttered this with a complacency that was almost smug. To Nat what was happening was almost incredible; he was half inclined to believe that Tyler had taken leave of his senses. Johnson gulped dazedly, but made no further protest. Everyone else was exclaiming over Tyler's "news".

Gordon rose, as if a great weight had been lifted from his shoulders. He went to Nelson, put out his hand. The man looked at it, abashed, for a moment, then wrung it warmly.

"Of course, it's all right with me, Nelson," said Gordon. "You've all earned a rest. Also, it might interest you to know—a little bonus."

Nelson shuffled his feet uncomfortably. "Thank you, boss," he said.

"But it's getting late," said Gordon. "No need of your rushing off like this tonight. Won't tomorrow do?"

Nelson saw Tyler's lips move. He shook his head, grinning. "I got a wife who's getting' lonely," he said. "So if you don't mind—"

"Not at all," said Gordon. "I'll have a couple of the chauffeurs run you in whenever you're ready. Good-by, Nelson. And you, Harrigan."

He shook hands with the burly Irishman. Then the two men departed. Tyler smiled after them. Then he turned to the others.

"There's something I want to tell you all," he said, "and then we'll call it a night. Something about myself—and about Ruth—and Nat. Something I think that will make you understand just why we've done what we did. I'll go back and start at the beginning."

Slowly, quietly, he told the story of the development of Ruth's strange power. Of her first vague, unformed premonitions of disaster. Of her eventual certainty, that night, of the murder of Martha Erik. Of the astonishing night when Zangara, the assassin, was about to strike at Franklin D. Roosevelt.

To those who had never heard the story he addressed himself directly—to Johnson, to Doris and to Carolla Gordon. He came to the first realization by Ruth that Paul Gordon's life was in danger. In detail he recited what had followed. Gordon squirmed uncomfortably. Tyler told of his skepticism, his refusal of their aid.

But Tyler smiled at him reassuringly and went on with his story. How Ruth had known that the assassin was about to shoot Gordon, how his life had been saved by her warning. How later, she had known of the invasion of the grounds of the estate by Espi, the hired killer.

He described the scene in the cottage on the night that Ruth had foreseen peril for Helene, told how he and Nat had run to her aid, how they had been puzzled by the circumstance of the turned-off burglar alarms, how they had even suspected that some member of the family, or Johnson, had shot Nat to escape detection.

"I've already apologized for those suspicions," Tyler said with a smile. "I apologize again. But what was I to think? Until I realized that Collins was Gaudio's creature, it seemed incredible, yet true, that it was a member of this very household."

He went on briskly, as if hurrying to get through, to tell the rest of the story. He talked with the top of his mind, his sharp eyes ever observant for the slightest sign of betrayal on the part of the guilty person, a sign that did not come. In his mind was a grudging admiration for the iron nerve which held that person calm, interested, apparently, but manifestly absorbed only as everyone else was absorbed.

When he had finished he gave a little sigh. There was a moment of silence, and then everyone was talking excitedly, but no one more than another. Tyler answered their questions until they had exhausted them. Then he threw out his hands expressively.

UNDER THE BIG TOP. Watching Miss Dorothy Herbert of Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey, you marvel at her poise and daring. Miss Herbert says: "I smoke all I want—eat anything I care for. Camels make food taste better and digest easier."

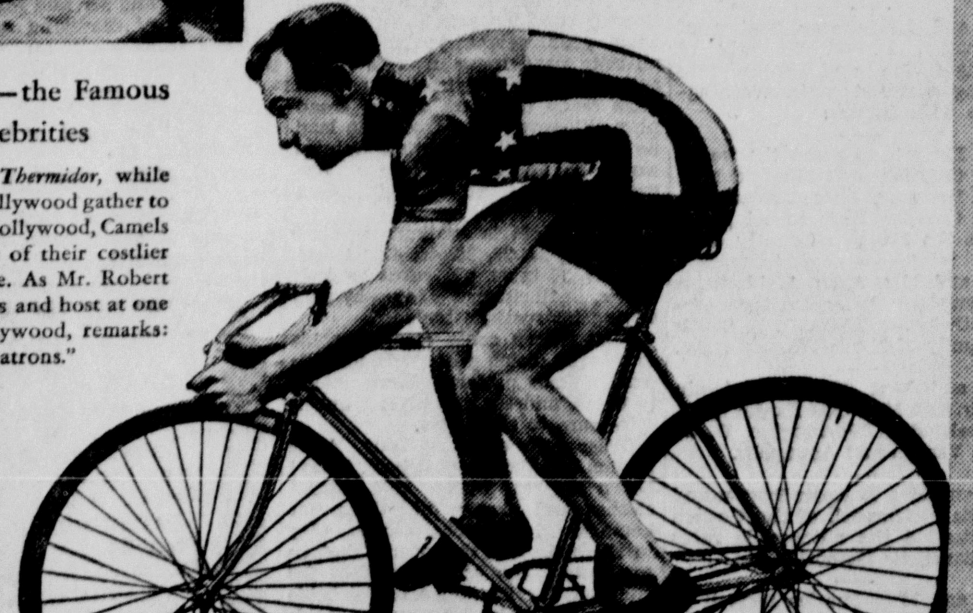

STOP PRESS! Tense minutes as the reporter works to beat the deadline. "It's a life of irregular hours and meals," says Peter Dahlen, newspaper man. "It's swell the way Camels make food taste better and set better with me."

Behind the Scenes in The Brown Derby—the Famous Rendezvous of the Hollywood Celebrities

The chef is putting the final touches to a Lobster Thermidor, while within the restaurant proper the glittering stars of Hollywood gather to dine and to enjoy Camels. In the glamorous life of Hollywood, Camels play a major rôle. The supreme mildness and flavor of their costlier tobaccos have made Camels an outstanding favorite. As Mr. Robert H. Cobb, the man behind The Brown Derby's success and host at one time or another to every great personality in Hollywood, remarks: "Camels are the choice of a great majority of our patrons."

SPRINT CHAMPION of the U.S., Willie Honeman (right), has spun around the boards against the leading sprinters of the world. "I relish my food," he says—"smoke Camels. They help my digestion to proceed smoothly."

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS...Turkish and Domestic...than any other popular brand.

Engagement, Three Weddings Usher In Month Of Brides

An engagement announcement and three weddings usher in the month of brides. Social events are being planned for brides and brides-elect who have announced their plans.

Gray-Hood
Adding to the list of coming marriages is the announcement of Miss Hazel Gray's engagement to Thomas A. Hood of Austintown. Miss Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Gray of the Goshen rd., will become the bride of Mr. Hood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hood of Austintown, on June 6. The wedding will be celebrated at the bride's home next Saturday with members of the families attending.

Polard-Merriman
Miss Martha Polard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry

Two Events Honor Bride-Elect

Two events Friday evening honored Miss Ray Schilling, who is to be married this month. Miss Sara Pollock of East Liverpool gave a dinner party at the Quaker tea-house, which was followed by a dance at the Salem Golf club, given by Miss Nance Pearce and Mrs. Charles Herbert.

Miss Pollock entertained 30 guests at the dinner party when she presented Miss Schilling and Miss Nance Pearce engagement gifts. Miss Pearce's engagement to John Carpenter was recently announced. The table was appointed in bridal fashion, all in white, with lovely white flower centerpiece and tall white tapers.

About 100 guests were entertained at the dance at the Golf club. Culbertson's orchestra played for dancing from 10 until 2. Balloons and large placards in various languages conveying farewell and bon voyage messages made the room attractive. Lunch was served during intermission.

Guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Riley of Pittsburgh, house-guests of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Mawhinney, Highland ave.; Dr. and Mrs. Albert Weinstein of Steubenville, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gibbs, Painter rd.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huxley, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Tolerton, and Miss Margaret McNutt of Youngstown; William Hall of Alliance; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Webber, Miss Sara Pollock and Jack Hall of East Liverpool; Edward Mellinger of Leetonia; and Mr. Harold Bramer of London, England.

Salem Book Club Plans Picnic

The annual picnic of the Salem Book club will be held at the Salem Country club on June 9. A luncheon will be served at noon. For transportation, members are asked to notify a member of the place committee, which includes Mrs. J. R. Stratton, chairman; Mrs. C. L. Hartough, and Mrs. B. H. Calkins. Members who can offer transportation, also, are to notify the committee.

Mrs. Frank Mangus Will Entertain

Mrs. Frank Mangus will entertain associates of the Edna Thomas auxiliary Tuesday evening at her home on East Third st., when officers for the new season will be elected.

Elks' Auxiliary Meets Tuesday

The Ladies auxiliary of the B. P. O. Elks will hold an important meeting at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the home. All members are requested to attend.

Miss Roberta Grove of East Sixth st., spent the weekend in Cantonburg, Pa., where she visited her brother and family, J. Homer Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zellmer and Att'y and Mrs. M. L. McCave and family of Cleveland were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McCave, Wilson st.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Christen of East State st., have arrived at Tampa, Fla., where they will make their home. They left Salem Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Tetlow of Washington, D. C., formerly of Washingtonville and Salem, are spending a few days in Washingtonville with friends.

Miss Betty Tolp spent the weekend in Chardon with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bostwick, where she attended the Chardon High school prom, held at the Madison Country club.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hartman of Waynesburg, Pa., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Smith and family of North Ellsworth ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Benjamin and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Zantal spent the weekend in Washington, D. C., Mount Vernon and Annapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Paxson and Miss Mary Campbell of the Goshen rd., attended the automobile races at Indianapolis Memorial day.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morrell of Columbus, formerly of Salem, visited friends here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Snell of Cleveland visited over the holiday and the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Snell of West Tenth st.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank MacDonald of Damascus were in Painesville over the weekend.

William H. Merriman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Merriman of Kensington, were united in marriage in the Friends ceremony at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Damascus Wilbur Friends meeting house.

Attendants were two sisters of the bride, Miss Ellen Pollard of Barnesville and Miss Alice Pollard of Cleveland. The bride wore a lovely white gown and her attendants wore pink and yellow.

A reception at the bride's home followed the ceremony. After the reception the couple went to their home at Kensington, where they are employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hauturer, near Kensington, were guests.

Campian-Beck
Announcement was made today of the marriage of Miss Nellie E. Campian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campian of Painesville, and Clifford A. Beck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Beck of the Patnos rd.

The wedding was an event of April 18 at New Cumberland, W. Va., Rev. Ivan Howland, pastor of the Methodist church officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Beck, who will make their home with the groom's parents for a time, are graduates of Goshen Township High school and Salem High school respectively.

Crawford-Cannon
Miss Betty Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Crawford of East Seventh st., will become the bride of Ralph Cannon of Lisbon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cannon, this month. Announcement was made of the event at a miscellaneous shower held at her home Saturday night. Miss Crawford received a number of lovely gifts. The evening was spent informally. Among the guests were friends from Columbiana, Leetonia and Lisbon.

Relatives Gather At Weingart Home

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Weingart of Orchard rd., entertained 18 friends and relatives at a dinner at their home Sunday. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Menuez and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Weingart and son, John, of Akron, who were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Butcher, Orchard rd.

Today's Pattern

ENGAGING LINES FOR MATRON

Pattern 2685
If you're that adorable person—the feminine type of woman—you know the allure in soft lines, lovely fabrics and becoming colors. And if you're as wise as we think, you'll plan your Summer with this charming cool, gracefully flaring capelets—time-savers both, for they're cut in one with a pair of smooth shoulder yokes. No matter what your weight you're assured all-time slenderness in this well-cut frock, its height-giving skirt lines ready deceivers of too broad hips. Wherever your frock's to lead its busy life, the following fabrics would be appropriate: sheer figured crepe or voile and cotton lace.

Pattern 2685 is available in sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 takes 3 1/2 yards 39 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. Be sure to state size.

Order your copy of our Anne Adams summer pattern book today! Learn how to make cool, smart clothes and plenty of them—for home wear, vacations, parties, play in the sun. See the special designs for stouts, the sturdy models for children, the latest frocks for bride and bridesmaids, the summer fabric news. Order this book now! Book fifteen cents. Pattern fifteen cents. Twenty-five cents for both, when ordered together.

Sparkling Up Black With Dash of Color

Bright Hues
★ Emphasize
Exquisite Charm of Dark Frocks

By MARIE MAROT

YOU'LL be seeing black this season despite all the talk about color. Smart women spark up their dramatic black frocks with brilliant color touches to emphasize their sable charm. But if you are going in for black with a dash of color, proceed carefully; otherwise the effect won't be at all successful. Black with touches of turquoise blue discreetly applied is a color scheme that does things for blondes and brunettes alike. Pink allied with black is another lovely color combination that is a winner this season. The first model is of black taffeta, veiled with black net with stitched faille ribbon collar and vestee in turquoise. At right is a very lowcut navy sheer evening frock with knife-pleated cape of navy net to give the desired color contrast.

CCC ARRANGES FARM FENCING

Program is Designed To Bring About Better Use of Land

One of the outstanding types of work being done by the Soil Conservation Service in connection with the plan for better farm management and better land use in Columbiana County is farm fencing.

After plans have been made with the cooperator for rearranging his fields to prevent erosion, it is usually necessary for fences to be removed, relocated or built, and this can be done by CCC labor which is available for use by the Soil Conservation Service.

The cooperator furnishes the fencing materials such as barb or woven wire, smooth wire, staples and posts and the Soil Conservation Service constructs the fencing, resulting from any rearrangement of fields.

Nearly 5000 rods of fencing on the farms of 55 cooperators have been constructed up to the present time in Columbiana County.

In order to be a cooperator with the Soil Conservation Service, a farmer must agree to follow measures for conserving the top soil on his farm for 5 years. By instituting a system called strip cropping which is merely alternating meadow and cultivated fields in long narrow bands on the contour or level of the hillside it is not only possible to save the top soil but also to build it up to a state of high productivity. By changing fences to run with the strips, any triangular shaped pieces which may result can be thrown into other fields for use as cultivated, meadow or pasture land.

Fences can be changed as a result of the following readjustments: Retiring idle, cultivated or meadow land to pasture; retiring old woods or new tree planting areas from pasture to protected woods; pasture improvement; strip cropping or contour cultivation.

Men of scientific agricultural training and experience, employed under Civil Service, are located at the Soil Conservation Service camp at Lisbon to assist the farmers of Columbiana county to readjust their farm programs to adopt soil conserving methods without any inconvenience or loss of income as a result of following these better land use practices.

Indians Go On Warpath To Stretch Winning Streak To Five Straight Victories

Tribe Pulls Up From Fifth to Third Place, One-Half Game Behind Boston Red Sox; Pitchers Begin To Function; Browns Upset Detroit

By SID FEDER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Those Indians from Cleveland are on the warpath. Tomahawks swinging, they're hot on the trail of the American league's leading and most highly-prized scalps—the New York Yankees and Boston's million-dollar Red Sox.

Pulling up from fifth to third place last week, the Tribe camped today only half a game back of the Sox, after stretching its winning streak to five straight with a 7-5 victory over the Chicago White Sox yesterday.

The Indians' surprising showing in the last several days, particularly in a generally better performance record by the Cleveland pitchers, was climaxed yesterday by a whole landslide of surprises all down the line in both leagues.

For instance, in the American, the hapless St. Louis Browns upset the Detroit Tigers 11-10 for the third straight time, and the Yankees, with Joe DiMaggio again in the hero's role at bat, made it three out of four in a week over the supposedly mighty Red Sox with a 5-4 triumph. Rounding out the day for the league, Pete Appleton, in a six-inning relief trip, outpitched three members of Connie Mack's up-and-down Athletics hurling staff for a 6-4 win by Washington.

Unexpected Happens

The unexpected was even more marked in the National league. The Daffiness boys from Brooklyn handed Bill Terry's Giants, who seem to be cracking as expected, a 4-3 setback, their third straight at the Dodgers' hands; the Boston Bees, after losing four losses on the chin from the Phillies, turned on the heat and came through with a 6-5 win in 11 innings; Dizzy Dean was belted for 19 hits by the Cincinnati Reds, but the Cardinals slugged just as hard and came through 8-7 in a 12-frame thriller, and the Cubs, on the strength of Ethan Allen's timely single in the tenth to score the winning run, outlasted the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-7.

The sudden form reversal of the Cleveland pitchers in the last week along with generally better fielding rank as the most likely reason for the Tribe's big push. In the five-game streak they have yielded a total of only 38 hits while the Indians were collecting nearly twice as many. Mel Harder came through with a nine-hit performance yesterday as the Indians fell on Vernon Kennedy, who won his no-hit-no-run fame at their expense a year ago, and shelled him for 13 safeties.

Rookies Steal Show

Rookies stole the show in several spots on the big-time program for Sunday. DiMaggio tripled to drive in the winning run against the Red Sox. Stuart Martin singled to do the same for the Cardinals in the batting barrage against the Reds. Gene Moore homered in the ninth to bring the Bees from behind, tie up the count, and enable them to hang on until the Phils were downed. Buddy Hasset's batting, including two run-making singles, helped force the Giants down before the Brooklyn, while Appleton's twirling for Washington saved the Senators' day.

However, some of the boys who've been around longer shared the glory. For instance, Rogers Hornsby, the Browns Manager, came up as a pinch-hitter in the ninth and drove over the winning run against the Tigers in his first playing appearance of the year.

LISBON OILERS DIVIDE GAMES

Split Double-Bill With Lake Placidia At Lake Diamond

LISBON, June 1.—The Lisbon Hanna Oils, Columbiana County league champions, and Lake Placidia divided a doubleheader at the lake diamond Memorial day with the Oilers winning the first game, 3-0, and Placidia the second, 3-0.

Minus the service of their ace pitcher, John Hrovatic, who is suffering from injuries received at work last Thursday, the Hanna Oilers relied on Simpson for mound duty in the first game and "Jiggs" and Rudy Hrovatic in the second.

Simpson came through in fine style pitching four hit ball and turning in the Oilers second shut-out of the season. The Hrovatic brothers granted but four blows in the second contest but lacked support from their teammates at bat.

Roesti and Eells were in the box for Placidia during the first game and allowed 11 hits. Willie Schepert pitched two-hit ball to aid Placidia in securing the victory in the second contest.

Chinas Score Three Runs In Sixth To Win Class A Softball Game

Scoring three runs in the last half of the sixth inning to break a tie, the Salem China defeated the United Cigars, 8-5, in the only Class A league softball game at Centennial park last Friday.

Noble shoes forfeited to the Natural Gas Co. in the other scheduled senior circuit contest. It was the "Gas House Gang's" first victory of the season.

Both the Pottery and Cigar outfits collected seven hits during their contest. Kasso went the full route on the mound for the Chinas while Ed Miller did the same for the Cigars. Frank Fowler and George Morris led the Chinas at bat with three and two hits respectively. Carl McQuillen and Bob Chappell paced the Cigars, each with two hits.

McQuillen and Franklin Sutter, Pottery third baseman, hammered out circuit hits.

The victory was the third the Chinas have registered to date. They have lost one game and tied one.

Only one game was played in the Class B league Friday with the Methodists pounding out a 16-11 victory over the Presbyterians.

Whinnery pitched for the M. E.s and allowed 11 hits while King was on the mound for the Presbys, granting 15 blows. Both teams made six errors.

C. Weigand, L. Weigand, Everhart and Whinnery were outstanding at bat for the Methodists. Whitehill, Woods and Floyd McQuillen were the heavy hitters for the Presbyterians with one of Whitehill's hits going for a home run.

BREWERS AGAIN TAKE A. A. LEAD

Win 2 Games Yesterday Over Kansas City To Cop First Place

CHICAGO, June 1.—Allan Sothor's Milwaukee Brewers returned to their own park today to give home fans a look at the American association's first-place club.

The Brewers, liberally supplied with talent sent down by the world champion Detroit Tigers, won two games yesterday where it did the most good, whipping the Kansas City Blues twice to take over the lead. It took them 14 innings to win the first game 8 to 2, but they won the second one at regulation distance, 9 to 2, to move a half game ahead of the Blues in the standing.

Chet Laabs' bat was the vital factor in the first victory. He's homer in the ninth tied the score at 2-2 and his single in the 14th drove Bernie Uhlath home with the winning run. Before they ceased firing in the 14th the Brewers picked up five more runs.

Kansas City and the new league leaders were rained out of action Memorial day. The Brewers were slated to open a four-game series today with the 1935 champion Minneapolis Millers.

Saints Win Two

Minneapolis' third place margin over St. Paul was reduced to a half-game over the weekend as the Saints won two out of three engagements. The Millers won Saturday's morning game, 12 to 4, but the Saints bounced back in the afternoon for a 12 to 4 decision and gained the edge yesterday by taking a 10-inning affair, 7 to 6.

Ira Hutchinson, fifth of the St. Paul pitchers to work, received credit for the victory yesterday and laid down a punt on a squeeze play to score Gordon Slade with the winning run.

Indianapolis jumped from seventh to fifth place by taking three out of four from Louisville. The Indians won both holiday contests, 9 to 2 and 4 to 2, and split even with the Colonels yesterday. The Colonels hammered out 17 hits to win the first Sunday tilt, 13 to 6, but Indianapolis came back to win the second game, 5 to 2.

Columbus took a shugging match from Toledo, 15 to 10, after sharing Saturday's honors with the Mudhens. Toledo won the first Memorial day decision, 6 to 1, and the Red Birds choked off a late rally to win the other one, 10 to 9.

Game Cancelled

The scheduled contest between the Salem and Lisbon American League junior baseball teams at Centennial park Saturday was cancelled. Joe Kelley, manager of the local nine, reported today.

Former Salem Athletes Place In College Meets

Don Lease Aids Western Reserve In Victory; Ed. Wilms, Don Greenisen Star For Mount

While present Salem High tracksters were being virtually closed out in the state interscholastic meet at Columbus Saturday, the Quaker school's honor in track and field activity was upheld by three of its former athletes participating in intercollegiate competition.

Placing in three events, Donald Lease, class of '31, aided Western Reserve university in winning the first invitational Big Four meet at Berea. Six colleges, Reserve, Baldwin-Wallace, Toledo, Case, Penn and Hiram, were entered in the meet and finished in the order named.

Lease was second in the pole vault, won by Long of Toledo at 12 feet, 1 inch; second in the broad jump, won by Ticks of Reserve with a leap of 21 feet, 1/2 inch and tied for fourth in the high jump, won by Kroecker of Penn at 5 feet, 7 inches. Lease is enrolled in the dental college at Reserve.

At New Concord, Edgy Wilms, class of '32, and Don Greenisen, class of '33, were point-getters as Mount Union college finished fifth in the Ohio conference meet, won by Oberlin.

Wilms, who is a senior at Mount, won the 880-yard run in 2 minutes, 14 seconds and placed second in the mile run, won by Bob Chappell of Wooster in the record time of 4 minutes, 27.8 seconds.

Greenisen, a junior at the Alliance college, tied for third in the mile run.

Third Time in 8 Years That He Has Won First Prize

(By Associated Press)

INDIANAPOLIS, June 1.—For the third time in eight years Louis Meyer of Huntington Park, Calif., will step to the front tonight when his name is called and receive the $20,000 first prize check for having won the 500-mile Memorial day automobile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway.

Prizes for the first 10 finishers and the consolation awards for all starters in the race will be presented to the drivers at the annual speedway dinner tonight.

Meyer raced to victory here Saturday in the record-breaking time of 109.069 miles an hour. The previous record for the long grind was 106.240 set by Kelly Petillo, also of Huntington Park, Calif., last year.

Trailing him to the finish line were Ted Horn of Los Angeles, second; Doc MacKenzie of Eddington, Pa., third; Mauri Rose of Dayton, sixth; Wilbur Shaw of Indianapolis, seventh; George Barringer of Houston, Texas, eighth; Zeke Meyer of Germantown, Pa., ninth; George Connor of Los Angeles, tenth.

DECIDE BIG TEN BASEBALL TITLE

Michigan and Iowa to Vie For Western Conference Championship

CHICAGO, June 1.—The Western conference baseball championship will be decided this weekend in the final two games of the year.

Michigan and Iowa, tied with eight wins and one loss each, tangle in a doubleheader at Ann Arbor, the first game Friday, and the second Saturday. A clean sweep for either team will win it the title but a split will hand the championship to Illinois. The Illini completed their schedule with record of 10 wins and two losses.

Indiana finished its schedule over the weekend by splitting with Ohio State for a record of six wins and three defeats. Ohio state, by winning one of the games, ended its season with one victory and 10 losses, Northwestern, in losing to Wisconsin finished the season without a victory. 11 starts Wisconsin and Minnesota play Tuesday and Wednesday at Madison.

LAKERS BLANKED IN SUNDAY GAME

Shut Out by Carrollton Merchants; Abrahams Winning Pitcher

After splitting a doubleheader with Lisbon Hanna Oils Memorial day, Lake Placidia's independent baseball team returned to action yesterday to be blanked by the Carrollton Merchants, 1 to 0, at the lake diamond.

Carrollton took six hits from the offerings of Pitcher Eells while Placidia was limited to three blows by Abrahams, who received credit for the shutout. Carrollton scored its lone run in the fourth inning.

Placidia's three hits were divided between Ted Schwartzhoff, Larry Russell and Sam Drakulich. Duval led Carrollton at bat with three blows out of four trips to the plate.

MERCHANTS LOSE THREE CONTESTS

Drop both ends of Double-Header With Canton; Lose to Palestine

The Salem Merchants are recovering today from a weekend of tough luck.

Memorial day proved a jinx to the Merchants when they lost out in both games of a doubleheader with the Canton Stark Motors, 4-1 and 12-8, and then Sunday brought additional defeat when East Palestine edged them out, 6-5, in a 10-inning Columbiana County Baseball league contest. The Memorial day games were played at Dunn Eden park, while yesterday's contest was staged at Peace Valley park, near East Palestine.

Against the Stark Motors nine, the Merchants trailed throughout both games. Jim Smith went the full route on the mound in the first game for the Merchants while three twirlers, Ray Willis, Chet Brautigam and Eddie Pukalski, saw service in the nightcap.

At Peace Valley, the Merchants came from behind to tie the score in the ninth inning at 5-5 but went down to defeat when East Palestine scored one run in the extra frame.

Frank Christy was in the box for the Merchants and granted nine hits, while R. Patton pitched for East Palestine and allowed only six blows.

Bob Chappell and Earl Zelle led the Merchants at bat with two hits each. One of Zelle's hits, a single, brought in the tying run in the ninth frame.

ANNOUNCE DATE OF GOLF EVENT

Ohio Public Links Tourney to Be Held at Akron July 18-19

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, June 1.—The boys who carry their own golfing artillery and get in their hacks before or after laboring in office or factory will come into their own July 18 and 19 in the annual Ohio public links tournament.

Ray Pennell of Columbus, secretary of the Ohio Public Links association, who announced the site of the tournament as the J. Edward Good course in Akron, said about 100 golfers would compete in 72-hole medal play event. He conferred Sunday with Charles Burns, manager of the Akron course.

This year Bill Clensy of Cincinnati, one-time amateur baseball player and now a distillery employee, will defend his title against competitors who must work their way up to the state tournament through district meets. He defeated Byron (Barney) Hunt of Columbus at Cincinnati last year in a close stretch drive.

Thirty-two of the public links leaders, including the champion and runner-up, will be eligible to enter the Ohio amateur tournament at the Toledo Inverness course the first week in August.

S.S. QUEEN MARY REACHES N. YORK

Fails to Surpass Record Crossing Established By Normandie

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, June 1.—Completing her first voyage across the Atlantic, the British liner Queen Mary put into New York harbor today. But she failed to surpass the record crossing established by the Normandie last year.

The Queen Mary passed Ambrose Lightship at 7:55 a. m. (EST), and proceeded up Ambrose channel to quarantine. She was not due to dock until late this afternoon.

An official comparison of the times of the Queen Mary and the Normandie was not immediately available.

The comparison was further complicated by the fact that the Queen Mary's crossing was measured from Cherbourg breakwater to Ambrose, while the crossing of the Normandie was measured from Bishop's Rock Light, at the entrance of the English Channel to Ambrose, 193 nautical miles shorter.

At the office of the Cunard line, it was stated the Queen Mary, after leaving Cherbourg breakwater at 7:35 p. m. (EST) last Wednesday, passed Bishop's Rock Light at 1:17 a. m. (EST) Thursday.

On this basis, it took the Queen Mary 4 days, 6 hours and 38 minutes from Bishop's Rock to Ambrose.

The Normandie's record for the same distance was four days, 3 hours, 13 minutes and 38 seconds.

The welcoming of the new liner began as soon as she passed the Lightship. Three U. S. Army planes in formation flew over the ship, with other planes circling about as the Queen Mary slowed down to take on the pilot at the entrance to the channel.

Two comedy romances will be seen at the State theater on a double bill Tuesday and Wednesday. The behind-the-headlines drama of a playboy fortune-hunter and a dollar princess is the subject of the Fox picture, "Champagne Charlie."

Played with a zest and effectiveness that match the title, the picture follows the impetuous story of a gambler at life and love, as he skirts tragedy, plays at romance.

The title role of "Champagne Charlie" is occupied by handsome Paul Cavanaugh, while his leading lady is Helene Wood lovely Southern belle, who plays her first major role in this production.

Thomas Beck, Mirna Gombell and Herbert Mundin are the chief actors in the strong supporting cast of "Champagne Charlie," which was directed by James Tilling and produced under the supervision of Edward T. Lowe.

Lights Out

DELAWARE, June 1.—Col. Lynn Black, superintendent of the Ohio state patrol, noticed an auto with its tail light not burning. He pulled ahead of the driver.

"Now don't tell me you didn't know your tail light was out," began Black, reaching for a traffic summons.

"Sure, but so's yours," replied the motorist.

"And it was," admitted Black afterwards, "so I bawled him out a little and let him go."

DEATHS

ROSE CARMELITA FINK

Funeral service was held Friday morning at St. Paul's Catholic church for Rose Carmelita Fink, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fink, who died Tuesday. She was a student at St. Paul's Catholic school and was a member of that church. Rev. Fr. M. J. Casey was in charge of the service.

Children of the school attended the service and, as a memorial, sang the Ave Maria during the service. Pallbearers were: Mary Elizabeth Fink, Mary Catherine Scullion, Mary Teresa Gamble, Jean Wagoner. Honorary pallbearers, who were classmates, included: Dolores Englert, Virginia Scullion, Teresa Ingalls, Inez Equezi, Mary A. Sweeney, Joyce Laury, Mary Haas, Lena Pascola, Anna Mae Finnegan, Virginia Schewing, Mary Balnavsky and Mary Helen Endres.

Besides her parents, she is survived by three brothers, Charles Francis, Jr., and Joseph; four sisters, Margaret, Isabel, Mary and Agnes; two grandmothers, Mrs. Rose Fink and Mrs. Margaret Englert.

Relatives and friends attended the service from East Brady, Bentleyville, Pa., Youngstown, Leontia and Dunganon. Burial was in Grandview cemetery.

EMIL MEAD

Emil Mead, 88, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. B. Townsend, Mound st., at 5:30 a. m., Sunday after two months illness of complications.

Mr. Mead was born in Mahoning county but spent most of his life in the vicinity of Salem. His wife, Della, died a year and a half ago.

Surviving are one daughter, where he died; one son, P. P. Mead of Cleveland; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Ella Lloyd of Salem and Mrs. Albert Fogg of Pasadena, Calif.

Funeral service will be in charge of Rev. C. F. Bailey at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Arbaugh funeral home. Burial will be in Hope cemetery. Friends may call this evening at the funeral home.

MISS DEBORAH PLUMMER

DAMASCUS, June 1.—Miss Deborah Plummer, 76, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart, at 7 a. m. today. She had been ill since Wednesday.

Miss Plummer, who was born at Lowell, O., had lived in this vicinity for about seven years. She is survived by her sister, at whose home she died and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral service will be held at the Mooseman funeral home in Sebring at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Burial will be in the Damascus cemetery.

VETERANS GIVEN CITY'S ACCLAIM

Throngs Attend Memorial Rites; Percy Tetlow Guest Speaker

lem High school bands, the Sons of Veterans, the American Legion and auxiliary posts, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and auxiliary posts, Charles Bonnell, 96, and Milo (Griff) Ruble, 93, last members of Tresscott post No. 10, G. A. R.; auxiliary posts of the G. A. R., Sons of Legion, and Boy Scouts.

Veterans Bonnell and Ruble rode in an automobile during the parade.

Tetlow Speaks
Services at Hope cemetery were featured by the address of Percy Tetlow, formerly of Salem and Washingtonville and now a member of President Roosevelt's bituminous coal committee, and the decorating of graves by school students, who were later guests of N. I. and H. L. Walken, owners of the State and Grand theaters.

While urging the country to prepare an adequate defense against foreign invasion, Tetlow, who is a member of Charles H. Carey post No. 56, American Legion, said in his brief address that he hoped it would never be called upon to use it.

The recitation of Lincoln's Gettysburg address by William Bennett, member of the Salem High school band, a prayer by Rev. C. F. Evans, pastor of the Christian church, who was chaplain for the day, a salute by the Sons of Veterans' firing squad, and sounding of taps were also included in the afternoon program.

CONGRESS FUN MAKER SEIZED

Zioncheck Is Arrested, Charged With Being "Of Unsound Mind"

they had orders to lodge the representative in the City hospital, the two burly detectives took him by each arm.

Calls for Examination
"All I want," Zioncheck cried, "is to be given a thorough examination."

With the detectives on either side of him, Zioncheck, who was dressed in a black and white checked suit and tennis shoes, was marched out of the government hospital and headed toward the detectives' automobile.

"I'm going in my car," shouted Zioncheck, breaking away from one of the officers.

His black roadster was parked a few feet away.

Grabbing the congressman more firmly by his arms, the two detectives, who were now joined by uniformed policemen, hurled Zioncheck into the rear of the police car.

FRESH AS HOT CAKES
RIGHT OFF THE GRIDDLE!

LISTEN, PEOPLE! . . . When that stack of "pancakes" gets cold and clammy, all the appetizing lure is gone. Isn't it the truth?

Same way with a cigarette that gets dry or soggy. Stale cigarettes have lost their fragrance and flavor . . . isn't that the truth?

Two jackets of Cellophane keep that "right off the griddle" freshness in Double-Mellow Old Golds. Each of those two jackets is moisture-proof Cellophane; the highest quality obtainable.

This double Cellophane wrapping keeps out dampness, dryness, dust; every other foe of cigarette goodness. It gives you FACTORY-FRESH cigarettes . . . as fresh as they left the machines at the factory.

P. Lorillard Company
Established 1760

You buy 1 pack; we'll pay you for 2 . . . if "Double-Mellows" don't make good

That's the net of our Double-Money-Back offer. If not pleased, after smoking half a pack, mail us the remaining 10 smokes at any time within 30 days of this date. We'll send you double the price you paid for the full package, plus postage. Address, 119 W. 40th St., N.Y.C.
